DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group III in Paper No. 11 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 1-59, 76-81, 96, 108, 114, 124, 126 and 128 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 11.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 60-75 and 82-95 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Doyel or Mooney et al.

Doyel and Mooney et al. disclose tools for attaching articles of clothing together or articles of commerce; i.e. tags to clothing using flexible plastic fasteners comprising a retaining element at one end and an inserting element at the other end. However, Doyel and Mooney et al. lack the specific use of the tools as well as disclosure as to the specific fastener configuration. Since it is well known to attach like garments together, as well as price tags to clothing for example, and it is well known to provide fasteners that are easily broken to facilitate their removal, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to manufacture the fasteners of Doyel or Mooney et al. with the claimed configuration in order to facilitate easy fracturing, as well as using the tool as claimed in order to more effectively secure clothing components together and attach articles of commerce such as cardboard backing to clothing since such assemblies are known, and to do so is within the purview of the skilled artisan.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kunreuther, Deschenes et al., and Raymond et al. '285 disclose similar tools.
